1861-1868/69. Bericht über die Senckenbergische naturforschende gesellschaft in Frankfurt am Main.
The reports of this series (1869-1868/69) contain merely brief statements concerning the condition of the society. By a resolution of October 1869 the reports were enlarged to include scientific papers; the report for 1869/70 forms therefore the first of a new series, and is so reckoned according to the num- being adopted in 1909. The two series are entered inde- pendent in the Library of Congress catalog.

Brief reports containing lists of members, financial statements, etc. were issued from 1839 to 1869; beginning with 1869 the reports were enlarged

 The Transactions include papers in all departments of the Yorkshire fauna and flora, and are issued in annual parts containing signatures of the various sections (A-F); the groups are pagged independently, and in the Library of Congress set they are bound according to their composition as volumes and not as originally issued. For convenience in identifying the parts, the contents given below are in two arrangements, first in the order of publication and second as monographs assembled from the parts. The covers of pt. 1-35, which contain much valuable bibliographical information concerning the set, are bound together in one volume. A record of this publication, with full contents of pts. 1-35 is given in T. Shepherdson to science, 1916, p. 123-126. (Continued on next card)
